The declarant, on release for free circulation of certain specific goods for which a dumping or subsidisation investigation is being carried out in the European Commission and a provisional anti-dumping/countervailing duty is imposed, must lodge a security to cover it. After the adoption of the relevant regulation regarding the application of a definitive anti-dumping or definitive countervailing duty, the State Revenue Service shall take a decision regarding the transfer or refund of the security to the State budget and shall notify the declarant thereof.

Process description

Service requests

When drawing up a customs declaration in the electronic customs data processing system (EMDAS) and paying the security in the accounting account of the deposited funds of the State Revenue Service, the information regarding the bank account shall be submitted simultaneously for the case where the security is to be repaid, using the relevant form. The service does not need to be requested separately.

Receipt of services

The relevant regulation of the European Commission imposing a definitive anti-dumping duty or definitive countervailing duty is published in the Official Journal of the European Union.

The State Revenue Service shall, on the basis of the relevant regulation, take a decision on the transfer of the security to the State budget and/or partial/total repayment and notify the declarant in the Electronic Declaration System (EDS) or send it by post.
